

My ultimate goal is to be playing on the European tour within 4 years. There is a clear pathway to do this and with your help and support, I feel confident that I have the all-round game to make this happen.

Where It All Starts - The Clutchprotour is where I will start my journey as it boasts one of the most competitive fields of players out of any of the UK's mini-tours. The prize funds are the most impressive out of any of the mini-tours, thus attracting some of the best players in the country. It is the highest prize funded tour in Europe where you don't have to pre-qualify to play their events. The top 3 in the order of merit can gain access straight to European Tour qualifying. The Clutch pro tour has 15 events in the year with 1st place picking up anything from £2,000 to £10,000 per event. Some of the very best golf courses are used for the events which help me develop my game ready for the coming years.

The clutch pro tour's social media presence is strong with many followers, they run an active marketing campaign around each tournament across many social media sites including Instagram.

Stepping Up To the next level - After being successful in the early stages of my plan I will then look forward to qualifying for the Europro Tour (Sept 2021) which is the next level up from the mini-tours (2 tours away from the European tour). This is where the entries increase but so do the payouts. In 2021, The Europro tour has already scheduled 14 events with the payout totalling around £900,000 in prize money. The top five golfers at the end of the season are awarded a category on the 2022 Challenge Tour, which is just one stage below the European Tour. The Europro tour is the biggest golf tour in the UK which is televised on Sky Sports every week. 1st prize at these events is fixed at £10,000.

With every event televised my corporate sponsors will receive maximum coverage and promotion. The Europro tour also has a strong presence on all social media platforms.

Challenge tour bound - I will gain huge experience playing in the mini-tours which will allow me to transition onto the challenge tour feeling totally at home. The most exciting part of this tour is that it directly feeds into the European tour offering me potential invitations to compete at this higher level. The challenge tour is based all around Europe. Last year's order of merit winner Francesco Laporta took home £210,000.

Travelling around Europe will allow my corporate sponsor's maximum coverage wider afield. These events are also televised across Europe on Sky Sports, the foremost channel for UK golf fans. They also have a strong presence on all social media platforms.

My Ultimate goal - This has always been in my sights from an early age and everything that I have worked towards has helped me prepare for playing at the highest level. Competing against the best players in the world week in week out. The European tour offers the biggest payback return for myself and my sponsors who have supported me from the outset. Full TV coverage being televised across the world.
